◆ Sarvashtakavarga ◆

Each planet gives up to eight points to every sign; the chart shows their total and the table each planet's share. It is read with transits: a planet passing through a sign with more points tends to give better results.

How to read this report

- Your chart is read area by area: you, money, home, children, marriage, career and the rest.
- Each planet stands for a part of you (the Moon for the mind, Venus for love, Saturn for work) and colours the area it sits in.
- A dasha is a chapter of your life ruled by one planet; a sub-period is a shorter chapter within it.
- A transit is the planets' present movement, the weather of the moment over your chart.
- Favourable, Mixed and Extra attention mark how supportive an area or a period is, not fixed outcomes.
- The astrology behind each reading is printed small beside it, for anyone who wants to check it with an astrologer.

Overview

🕒 Now and the next two years

Where you stand now and what the next two years bring: the sub-periods of your dasha that run in this window, then the slow planets' movement counted from your Moon sign.

As of 10 Oct 2026

Your periods

From February 2026 to March 2027 runs the Mars sub-period of your Saturn ● Favourable period, a supportive time to move plans forward and build on what is working.

From March 2027 to February 2030 runs the Rahu sub-period of your Saturn ● Favourable period, a productive stretch in which effort tends to be rewarded. Give your health steady attention through this sub-period, with regular rest and a sensible routine.

The slow planets' transits

Saturn moves through Pisces until June 2027 and from October 2027 to February 2028. Saturn in your 2nd house turns attention to savings, speech and the family table. Counted from the Moon sign, this is the closing phase of Sade Sati, when the lessons of past years settle into steady discipline.

Saturn moves through Aries from June 2027 to October 2027 and from February 2028 to October 2028. Saturn in your 3rd house is one of its favourable positions. Sustained effort, courage and practical skill begin to pay, and this long stretch suits building something step by step.

Jupiter moves through Leo from October 2026 to January 2027, from June 2027 to November 2027 and from February 2028 to July 2028. Jupiter in your 7th is favourable: partnerships deepen, journeys taken for good purposes go well, and there is contentment with your partner and family. Agreements made in good faith now tend to hold.

Jupiter moves through Cancer from January 2027 to June 2027. Jupiter in your 6th is testing: rivals, cousins or superiors may create friction, and routines slip into excess. Serve diligently, keep your conduct beyond reproach, and guard your daily rhythm of food and rest.

Jupiter moves through Virgo from November 2027 to February 2028 and from July 2028 to October 2028. Jupiter in your 8th is testing: tiring journeys, low energy and a drain on money are the themes to watch. Keep reserves untouched where you can, rest well, and give the period to deep study or spiritual practice.

Rahu moves through Aquarius until November 2026. Rahu crossing your own sign stirs restlessness and a hunger for change. Testing for wellbeing, it can blur your sense of direction; grounding routines and honest self-checks keep ambition from turning into confusion.

Rahu moves through Capricorn from November 2026 to May 2028. Rahu in your 12th house draws energy and money outward, toward travel, far places or private pursuits. Marked by expenditure, it is steadied by tracking outflows and giving time to rest and inner work.

Rahu moves through Sagittarius from May 2028 to October 2028. Rahu in your 11th house is among its happiest positions, fulfilling desires and widening your circle. Gains can come through networks, technology or foreign links, and bold aims find willing supporters.

Ketu moves through Leo until November 2026. Ketu in your 7th house can make close partnerships feel distant or puzzling. With loss possible, it asks you to avoid assumptions, keep agreements simple and give relationships attention rather than withdrawal.

Ketu moves through Cancer from November 2026 to May 2028. Ketu in your 6th house is favourable, bringing happiness as obstacles fall away. Rivals lose interest, lingering problems resolve almost unnoticed, and service done without expectation brings unexpected rewards.

Ketu moves through Gemini from May 2028 to October 2028. Ketu in your 5th house makes the mind searching and less drawn to ordinary pleasures. With financial loss possible, it favours deep study and contemplative practice over speculation and restless amusement.

◆ 🌅 Your rising sign ◆

The lagna is the sign rising in the east at your birth. It describes your temperament, your body and the way you meet the world, and every house is counted from it.

Leo

With Leo rising, the Sun is the lord of your lagna, and the sign is fixed and fiery. You tend to be strong-willed, courageous and firm once you have decided, with a natural dignity that others notice. You prefer to lead rather than follow, and you have the energy to overcome opposition. Open spaces, hills and forests refresh you, and you often share a close bond with your mother. The caution is pride and a temper that flares over small matters; a moment's patience keeps your authority intact. Your close circle may be small but loyal. The eyes and the digestion deserve care.

◆ ☆ Your birth star ◆

Your birth nakshatra is the lunar mansion the Moon occupied when you were born. It colours your mind and feelings, and it sets the order of your Vimshottari dasha.

Shatabhisha

Your Moon is in Shatabhisha, 'a hundred healers', ruled by Rahu and presided over by Varuna, lord of the waters. You tend to be hard-working, courageous and persuasive in speech, with an independent streak and a strong pull toward distant or foreign places. This nakshatra also carries cautions worth keeping in view: holding resources so tightly that it becomes tightness, restless desires that ask for restraint, and an unsteady attitude that can scatter effort. Clear boundaries in relationships and consistency in commitments protect what you build. When your zeal is given a steady direction, Shatabhisha's courage and enterprise carry you far.

◆ Your nature, planet by planet ◆

Each planet stands for one side of you, and the sign it was in at your birth shows how that side of your nature tends to come out.

Confidence and self-respect (Sun · Cancer)

Your self-respect is tender and tied closely to home and family. You tend to be sensitive, devoted to the people you love, and tenacious once your heart is set on a goal. Learning and good speech can mark you out. Yet confidence is softer here: fortunes may rise and dip in turns, and you may prefer your own counsel to an elder's advice. Holding on too long to old ideas or possessions is the habit to watch.

Mind and feelings (Moon · Aquarius)

Inside, you are sharp, inventive and independent, with insight into people and a pull towards unusual or hidden subjects. You tend to be fond of flowers and fragrance, kind to others' children, and supported by siblings and friends. The caution is uneven energy, with bursts of work and spells of lethargy, and finances that rise and fall. Self-discipline turns your intelligence into steady achievement.

Energy and courage (Mars · Taurus)

Your drive is firm, patient and persistent, and you can earn through practical effort and steady strength. Yet when provoked you can turn obstinate or fiery, and friction with relatives or rivals may arise. Money earned by hard work can slip away through sudden generosity or hasty decisions, and home comforts may feel unsettled at times. Measured spending and a cooler response to criticism serve you well.

Thinking and speech (Mercury · Cancer)

Feeling and memory colour the way you think. You tend to love stories, songs and conversation, learn by absorbing, and may find friends in literary or commercial circles. Life may settle you far from your birthplace, and you value domestic comfort. Because mind and mood mix, judgement can sway with emotion, and others may misread your intentions when you act on impulse. Clear agreements, especially over property shared with siblings, keep matters calm.

Wisdom and growth (Jupiter · Leo)

Guidance and generosity flow from you with dignity and courage. You tend to be strong, fearless and well spoken, drawn to positions of honour and able to prevail over rivals. Friends gather round you, and you enjoy giving. The caution is pride: a sense of your own importance can make advice hard to accept or turn generosity into display. Leading with humility keeps the respect you naturally attract.

Love and comforts (Venus · Leo)

Your affection is warm, generous and a little dramatic. You tend to love sincerely and openly, respect elders and teachers, and may gain comfort and standing through your partner. You can even win over former opponents, and artistic or public work suits you. The cautions are pride in love and friction with relatives who feel overshadowed. Letting others share the stage keeps your relationships as bright as your spirit.

Work and discipline (Saturn · Capricorn)

Discipline, ambition and practical judgement come naturally to you, with Saturn at home here. You tend to rise by self-determination and tact, gaining authority and the respect of your community, and you may make your home far from where you began. You have regard for ethics and can do well in teaching and the arts. The cautions are loneliness at the top and a pensive, withdrawn mood; the eyes deserve care.

Ambitions and desires (Rahu · Sagittarius)

Your cravings take the form of a search for your own truth, and you tend to question inherited beliefs. Travel, foreign cultures, higher learning and unusual teachers attract you, and this sign is favourable for Rahu, bringing recognition and resources. The cautions are overreaching, dismissing wise counsel, or swinging between doubt and zeal; respect for good mentors steadies the search.

Detachment and inner life (Ketu · Gemini)

Insight reaches you in flashes rather than by rote; your mind is intuitive more than drilled. You may have a natural knack for languages, writing or technical skills that seems to need little study. The cautions are restless attention, communication that skips steps, and some distance from siblings or neighbours. Patience in explaining yourself helps others follow your quick leaps of understanding.

Life areas

Each area of life read from its house, its lord and the grahas that influence it. The badge beside each area shows its overall tone: favourable, mixed or needs care.

Personality Mixed

Your chart shows a capable self with some uneven edges.

Paying attention to rest, pacing your ambitions and trusting your own judgement tend to turn good potential into lasting presence. Gentle, kindly influences touch your personality, adding warmth, good manners and an easy way of winning goodwill wherever you go. What governs your own nature is placed under strain, so confidence may build slowly; regular routines and small daily achievements steadily strengthen it. A closer look at the finer divisions of your chart supports this promise. This area was most active during the Jupiter mahadasha, from August 1997 to August 2013, and much of what took shape then still shows today.

Wealth Extra attention

This area asks you to take care with both money and words.

Speaking gently within the family and handling resources thoughtfully tend to prevent friction and let prosperity settle. The rulers of money and gains sit under strain, so income may come unevenly; a written budget and patient saving make a real difference. The natural giver of abundance in your chart is strong, supporting wise handling of resources and a generous, well-regarded family life. The divisional charts confirm this reading, so the promise rests on firm ground. This area comes to the fore during the Mercury mahadasha, from August 2032 to August 2049, when effort put into it tends to bear more fruit.

Courage and siblings Favourable

You are inclined to be enterprising and quick to take on new tasks.

Short journeys, writing and everyday communication tend to go well and often open useful opportunities. What rules your initiative is well placed, lending you courage, a good flow of ideas and helpful ties with brothers and sisters. This area comes to the fore during the Venus mahadasha, from August 2056 to August 2076, when effort put into it tends to bear more fruit.

🏠 Home and property ● Favourable

Your chart gives your home life natural strength: you tend to enjoy a settled base, a caring bond with your mother and a peaceful mind that others find reassuring.

What governs your home life is well placed, favouring a settled household, a caring bond with your mother and comfort in property and vehicles. A closer look at the finer divisions of your chart supports this promise.

🎓 Education ● Favourable

Your chart promises a sharp, balanced mind with a taste for higher learning.

Sharing what you know and staying curious tend to make this strength grow richer throughout life. The rulers of learning are well placed, favouring a keen mind, steady progress in studies and teachers who recognise your ability. The divisional charts confirm this reading, so the promise rests on firm ground. This area was most active during the Jupiter mahadasha, from August 1997 to August 2013, and much of what took shape then still shows today.

👶 Children and creativity ● Favourable

Creativity and good judgement come readily to you.

Whether through children, students or your own creative work, what you nurture tends to grow well and reflect credit on you. What governs children and creativity is well placed, favouring joy through children, a lively creative spark and sound judgement in plans. This area was most active during the Jupiter mahadasha, from August 2010 to August 2013, and much of what took shape then still shows today.

🩹 Health ● Mixed

Your constitution is sound, though recovery from strain or illness may take longer than you expect.

Patience, regular rest and a steady routine tend to restore your energy fully. Your chart shows both robustness and sensitivity in health matters, so steady daily habits count for more than occasional bursts of effort. A closer look at the finer divisions of your chart supports this promise. This area was most active during the Jupiter mahadasha, from August 1997 to August 2013, and much of what took shape then still shows today.

💍 Marriage and partnership ● Favourable

Your chart gives partnership natural strength: you tend to attract a supportive companion, and shared life brings warmth, comfort and a sense of being understood.

Gentle influences on partnership bring affection, courtesy and a partner who tends to be kind, cultured and good company. The divisional charts confirm this reading, so the promise rests on firm ground. This part of your life is active now, during the Saturn mahadasha, which lasts until August 2032, so it is a good time to give it attention.

☆ Fortune ● Favourable

Your chart promises a blessed path with strong moral grounding.

Sharing your good fortune through charity, teaching and respect for elders tends to keep this grace flowing. What governs your fortune is well placed, favouring timely opportunities, the blessings of elders and guidance from good teachers. This promise is echoed in the finer charts as well, which adds to its strength. This area was most active during the Jupiter mahadasha, from August 1997 to August 2013, and much of what took shape then still shows today.

📅 Career ● Mixed

Recognition at work tends to follow sustained effort rather than arrive early.

Building expertise patiently and keeping good relations with seniors allow your status to grow steadily. Your career shows real openings alongside obstacles, so advancement may come in stages, and persistence through slower phases is rewarded. A closer look at the finer divisions of your chart supports this promise. This area comes to the fore during the Mercury mahadasha, from August 2032 to August 2049, when effort put into it tends to bear more fruit.

🌐 Foreign lands and spending ● Favourable

You are inclined to find opportunity far from home.

Distant places and foreign connections tend to broaden your outlook and bring real rewards over the years. The influences on this part of your chart favour travel, work abroad or settling far from your birthplace, though sleep may come late or lightly. The divisional charts confirm this reading, so the promise rests on firm ground. This part of your life is active now, during the Saturn mahadasha, which lasts until August 2032, so it is a good time to give it attention.

◆ 🏠 Your life in depth ◆

Each part of life read more closely: the planet that rules it, where that planet sits, and any planet placed in it. The astrology behind each reading is printed small above it.

🏠 Career and work 🟡 Mixed

Venus, ruler of career and status, sits in you and your health (lord of house 10 in house 1)

Your career and your sense of who you are tend to be woven together. You are inclined to be learned and articulate, known for what you achieve by your own efforts, often with a creative or literary streak. In early years your health deserves extra care, while comfort and resources tend to grow steadily later on. Let rest and the people close to you matter as much as ambition does.

Mars in career and status (Taurus, house 10)

Your career gets a powerful push from Mars, which is especially strong here and gives drive, authority and a talent for getting things done. You tend to rise through courage and hard work, and fields such as engineering, land, defence, administration or management suit you. Others admire your decisiveness and generosity. A blunt, hot-tempered style can win respect but also create friction; leading with fairness makes your success last.

🕒 Money, family and gains 🔴 Extra attention

Mercury, ruler of money and family, sits in expenses and foreign lands (lord of house 2 in house 12)

Money tends to flow outward in your life. You are adventurous and open-handed, and spending on travel, family needs or causes can outrun your savings. Income may come from foreign lands or distant work, and some people with this pattern find their prosperity abroad. In lean phases you may need to lean on others for support. Setting a portion aside before you spend turns this outward flow into purposeful giving.

Mercury, ruler of gains and friends, sits in expenses and foreign lands (lord of house 11 in house 12)

Your gains tend to flow out almost as quickly as they come, often into charity, travel, comfort or causes you care about. Friendships with people from other lands or cultures are likely, and income may arise abroad. You are inclined to be liberal with both money and time. Plan savings deliberately, keep pleasures in proportion and look after your health, so generosity rests on a stable base.

Ketu in gains and friends (Gemini, house 11)

Gains and ambitions are a strong area for you, and Ketu is very favourable here. You tend to accumulate resources, succeed in what you undertake and enjoy comfort and the good things in life. You are often learned, far-sighted and noble in bearing, neat in appearance, and rivals hold you in awe. Gains can come from many directions. The caution is a quiet indifference to people once goals are met; keep friendships warm.

♁ Marriage and partnership ● Favourable

Saturn, ruler of marriage and partnership, sits in health challenges, debts and rivals (lord of house 7 in house 6)

Married life tends to carry the themes of service, health and the handling of disputes. You and your partner may both be very hardworking, sometimes in service, health or legal fields, yet stress, irritability or a partner's health can strain closeness. Business partnerships need careful contracts. Patience, an even temper and a fair share of daily responsibilities go a long way, and this part of your life rewards couples who face problems as a team.

Moon in marriage and partnership (Aquarius, house 7)

In marriage and partnership, the Moon gives you charm and draws you toward warm, devoted companionship. You tend to be attractive, sociable and responsive to others, and your spouse is often caring, respected and loyal. Public dealings and trade can suit you. When the Moon is weak or troubled, moods can colour the relationship and your partner's wellbeing deserves attention. Emotional honesty and shared routines keep the bond secure.

♈ You, your body and health ● Mixed

Personality: Mixed · Health: Mixed

Sun, ruler of you and your health, sits in expenses and foreign lands (lord of house 1 in house 12)

Your life is drawn toward distant places, the inner world and giving. You tend to spend freely, sometimes more than planned, and may settle or work far from where you were born. Physical ease can feel limited, so sleep and rest matter, and the eyes deserve care. In harder phases frustration may show as anger. Spending on worthy causes, spiritual practice and foreign connections turns this pattern into a real source of meaning.

Saturn, ruler of health challenges, debts and rivals, sits in health challenges, debts and rivals (lord of house 6 in house 6)

You are strongly equipped to overcome obstacles, and difficulties can even turn to your advantage. You tend to recover well, outlast rivals and handle debts or disputes with a cool head. Friends outside the family may prove more supportive than relatives, and money tends to be adequate rather than abundant. Guard against becoming tight-fisted, and let your resilience make you generous toward others' struggles.

Jupiter, ruler of sudden changes and long life, sits in you and your health (lord of house 8 in house 1)

Your capacity to endure and to come back from change is part of your very temperament. You tend to be intense, private and resilient, drawn to deeper questions and able to rebuild after setbacks. Obstacles may come often, and your body benefits from careful handling, with sensible care against cuts and strain. Respect for elders and for faith, along with a steady routine, helps turn this depth into wisdom.

Jupiter in you and your health (Leo, house 1)

Your whole personality is strongly protected by Jupiter, the planet of wisdom and growth. You tend to carry dignity, warmth and a generous outlook, and people sense that you mean well. Faith, ethics and optimism shape your character, and those in positions of influence often show you favour. You enjoy fine clothes, good things and a comfortable life. The caution is weight and complacency; generosity of spirit works best alongside disciplined daily habits.

Venus in you and your health (Leo, house 1)

In how you come across to the world, Venus lends charm, grace and a pleasing appearance. You tend to be artistic, sociable and fond of beauty, keeping a tasteful home and a peace-loving, orderly way of life. Quarrels hold little appeal, and you respect rules and fair process. Work keeps you active and engaged. The caution is vanity and the pull of comfort; your attractiveness and ease serve you best when joined to purpose and effort.

Saturn in health challenges, debts and rivals (Capricorn, house 6)

Rivals, debts and daily routine are areas where Saturn serves you well. You tend to outlast competitors, handle hard work and routine without complaint, and build wealth through service, discipline and persistence. Health tends to hold up when you keep a regular routine. Where Saturn is at its strongest by sign, it adds dignity and standing. The cautions are a hearty appetite that needs moderation, a proud manner, and, if Saturn is weak by sign, friction within the wider family.

🏠 Home, mother and property ● Favourable

Mars, ruler of home and mother, sits in career and status (lord of house 4 in house 10)

Home and career are woven together for you. You tend to receive honours and recognition, enjoy comforts and show notable self-control. Work tied to land, construction, farming, vehicles, dairy or chemistry often suits you and can do well, and property may come through your own work. The caution is letting work swallow home life; protecting family time keeps the foundation beneath your success solid.

👶 Children, learning and creativity ● Favourable

Children and creativity: Favourable · Education: Favourable

Jupiter, ruler of children and learning, sits in you and your health (lord of house 5 in house 1)

Learning and creative thought are part of your very nature. You tend to be studious, thoughtful and respected for what you know, and children are usually a source of pride. Your mind is quick to calculate, which can turn into over-caution with money or a cleverness that bends rules; generosity and plain dealing keep your good name bright.

Rahu in children and learning (Sagittarius, house 5)

Your mind is sharp, inventive and unconventional, and Rahu draws it towards unusual subjects, technology or foreign learning. Matters of children may unfold in unexpected ways and ask for patience and extra care, more so if the Moon sits alongside Rahu. Guard against a hard-hearted or irritable streak and against gamble-like risks. The stomach deserves care. Your originality flourishes when steadied by discipline.

☆ Fortune, father and faith ● Favourable

Mars, ruler of fortune, father and faith, sits in career and status (lord of house 9 in house 10)

Your good fortune and sense of duty flow straight into your work, and when the planet ruling your career is linked here too, this becomes a powerful combination for rising in status. You are inclined to reach positions of trust in administration, leadership or public service, and to be respected for integrity and devotion to your parents. Status can harden into pride; your standing lasts longer when it serves others.

⚔ Courage, siblings and effort ● Favourable

Venus, ruler of courage and siblings, sits in you and your health (lord of house 3 in house 1)

Courage and initiative are stamped on your personality. You tend to be self-made, brave and practically intelligent, learning more from doing than from formal study. You are willing to serve and work hard, and your wealth comes mainly from your own hands. The same drive can make you impatient with family or friends who move more slowly; tact keeps your energy from turning into friction.

⊕ Expenses, foreign lands and inner life ● Favourable

Moon, ruler of expenses and foreign lands, sits in marriage and partnership (lord of house 12 in house 7)

Marriage and partnership involve giving for you: time, money and adjustment. Your spouse may come from a distant place or bring foreign connections, and shared expenses can run high. You are inclined to be persuasive in conversation. Married life asks for conscious nurturing and honest communication, and the energy you spend on others should leave some over for your own growth.

Sun in expenses and foreign lands (Cancer, house 12)

In matters of rest, retreat and distant places, the Sun's light turns inward and away from the spotlight. You may find fulfilment abroad, in institutions, charitable work or quiet spiritual practice. Expenses tend to run high, so budgeting matters, and the bond with your father may need patience and understanding. Eyes and restful sleep deserve care. Recognition can come from behind the scenes, and your generosity is felt more than announced.

Mercury in expenses and foreign lands (Cancer, house 12)

Your mind turns inward toward reflection, private study and distant places, and expenses need watching. You tend to be charitable and free of harmful habits, and work behind the scenes, abroad or in quiet settings can suit you. Spending can outrun income, and learning may need disciplined effort to complete. Guard against envy of what others have, and let your generosity include patience with yourself.

♂ Manglik check

Whether Mars sits in a house that is checked for marriage, counted from the lagna and from the Moon, and whether a cancellation applies. It is one factor among many, weighed together with the partner's chart.

You are Manglik: Mars sits in a position checked for marriage.

It is one factor among many, and when matching, the partner's chart is checked for the same.

Taurus · From the lagna: house 10 · From the Moon: house 4

♄ Sade Sati: Saturn's testing years

The dates when Saturn passes through the sign before your Moon sign, the Moon sign itself and the sign after it, and the shorter dhaiya spells. These periods reward patience, steady work and careful planning.

You are now in the Sade sati — last phase, until 3 Jun 2027.

🕒 Your life in chapters

The main timing system: a 120-year cycle of periods ruled by the nine grahas, starting from the Moon's nakshatra at birth. Each mahadasha divides into antardashas; the framed card is the period running now.

🕒 What each chapter brings

Each mahadasha of your life read as one period: its overall tone, when it gives its best and when it asks for more care. The badge shows the tone, and the current period is marked.

Rahu Mahadasha · 1992–1997 ● Favourable

Childhood in this period is generally happy and secure. The child tends to be well looked after, close to the mother and father, and quick to learn. The family's goodwill is the main gift of these years. The happiest and most settled stretch for the child and the family runs from August 1992 to August 1997. Throughout these years, the child's health, rest and diet deserve regular attention.

Jupiter Mahadasha · 1997–2013 ● Favourable

The change into this period is a turning point; expect the direction of life to shift. The study years in this period are generally bright. The young person tends to be capable, well liked and keen to learn, with family support behind them. Talents begun now often grow into lasting strengths. This period brings forward your Gaja-Kesari Yoga, Adhi Yoga and Raj Yoga, so their promise has room to show. The period opens quietly, and its fuller effects begin to show only after October 1999. The happiest and most settled stretch for the child and the family runs from October 1999 to April 2002. Through these years, rest, exercise and a regular routine keep the young person's energy steady. From August 2010, as adult life begins, the period's wider themes come forward. Your standing and good name are inclined to grow over these years, as your own judgement proves sound and people come to trust it. Sound judgement and good counsel come naturally now, and inner practices such as prayer or reflection feel rewarding. Jupiter and Venus are linked in your chart: learning, refinement and a supportive spouse favour both earnings and contentment. The Moon and Jupiter are linked in your chart: wisdom, good name and the support of many friends help wealth grow and last. Learning, study and qualifications are most in focus, and progress well, from August 2010 to August 2013.

Saturn Mahadasha · 2013–2032 ● Mixed (current)

A new chapter opens with this period, and the focus of your life tends to move in a fresh direction. A Saturn period of this kind moves at its own pace, and its results depend on the smaller periods within it and the planets Saturn is linked with. Work, duty and practical responsibilities fill the years, sometimes with solid progress and sometimes with delays. Structure, punctuality and realistic goals turn the slow parts into dependable gains. Work demands are heavy but manageable, and a balance between duty and rest keeps your energy from running low. You meet many people and some prove valuable while others drain your time, so choose associates thoughtfully. The Sun and Saturn are linked in your chart: results come through hard, disciplined work, and rivals or distance in close ties can test your patience. Mercury and Saturn are linked in your chart: careful, methodical skill brings results, though restlessness and friction with elders need care. This period brings forward your Raj Yoga, so their promise has room to show. The period opens quietly, and its fuller effects begin to show only after August 2016. A high point of recognition and rise is likely between February 2030 and August 2032. Learning, study and qualifications are most in focus, and progress well, from July 2024 to August 2032. Through these years, give your health regular attention and keep a steady, unhurried pace in work and travel. Taken together, these years are uneven but workable, and much depends on how you use the better stretches.

Mercury Mahadasha · 2032–2049 ● Mixed

The start of this period marks a shift; priorities and circumstances tend to rearrange themselves around it. A Mercury period of this kind is adaptable, taking its colour from the planets Mercury sits with and from the smaller periods within it. Studies, paperwork, trade and communication keep you busy, with results that swing between clever wins and needless complications. Checking details, keeping agreements in writing and staying curious help you get the best from it. You feel pulled between worldly duties and a wish to withdraw, and making room for both keeps you balanced. Family matters bring both support and small frictions; listening before replying keeps conversations at home from turning sharp. The Sun and Mercury are linked in your chart: learning, clear speech and skill in service are strengthened, though restlessness can creep in. Mercury and Saturn are linked in your chart: careful, methodical skill brings results, though restlessness and friction with elders need care. This period brings forward your Adhi Yoga and Budha-Aditya Yoga, so their promise has room to show. The period opens quietly, and its fuller effects begin to show only after January 2035. The most rewarding stretch of this period runs from January 2036 to August 2049. The most demanding stretch runs from January 2035 to January 2036; pace yourself and keep commitments modest then. Things tend to ease and improve noticeably after February 2041, so patience in the earlier years is well repaid. Learning, study and qualifications are most in focus, and progress well, from September 2039 to December 2046. Through these years, give your health regular attention and keep a steady, unhurried pace in work and travel. Overall, this period mixes gains with demands; steady judgement lets the good parts outweigh the rest.

Ketu Mahadasha · 2049–2056

Mixed

The change into this period is a turning point; expect the direction of life to shift. A Ketu period of this kind follows what Ketu is joined with and where it sits in your chart. It tends to loosen attachments: interests change, some chapters close, and questions of meaning grow louder. Not every ending is a loss; many make room for something new. Staying practical about work and money while exploring the inner life keeps the balance. Some hopes are fulfilled while others take longer, and adjusting your goals keeps disappointment from overshadowing real progress. Your speech can open doors or close them in this period, so choose words with care when money or family values are at stake. The period opens quietly, and its fuller effects begin to show only after January 2050. The steadier, more supportive stretch of this period runs from January 2050 to July 2051. The most demanding stretch runs from August 2055 to August 2056; pace yourself and keep commitments modest then. Your own health, confidence and standing are most in focus, and do well, from January 2050 to March 2051. Through these years, give your health regular attention and keep a steady, unhurried pace in work and travel. Overall, this period mixes gains with demands; steady judgement lets the good parts outweigh the rest.

Venus Mahadasha · 2056–2076

Favourable

A new chapter opens with this period, and the focus of your life tends to move in a fresh direction. A Venus period that works strongly for you brings comfort, beauty and success together. Relationships and marriage tend to flourish, finances ease, and vehicles, a better home or refined possessions may arrive. Creative, artistic or luxury-related work can bring real recognition. Enjoy the pleasures without over-indulgence, and this can be one of the most rewarding times of life. This is a time to shape your life on your own terms; your sense of direction is clearer and fresh beginnings tend to take root. Work that serves a larger purpose gives deep satisfaction, and ambitions you set now have good ground to grow on. Jupiter and Venus are linked in your chart: learning, refinement and a supportive spouse favour both earnings and contentment. The Moon and Venus are linked in your chart: taste, trade and creative work prosper, while home life asks for patience and give-and-take. This period brings forward your Adhi Yoga and Raj Yoga, so their promise has room to show. The period opens quietly, and its fuller effects begin to show only after December 2059. A high point of recognition and rise is likely between December 2059 and October 2063. Learning, study and qualifications are most in focus, and progress well, from December 2060 to June 2069. Through these years, give your health regular attention and keep a steady, unhurried pace in work and travel. Overall, a period to build on: opportunities are real, and using them wisely makes the gains last.

◆ Special combinations in your chart ◆

Yogas are particular combinations of grahas found in your chart. Each supports or tempers certain matters, and its weight depends on the strength of the grahas that form it and on the whole chart.

Gaja-Kesari Yoga

Gaja-Kesari Yoga forms because Jupiter stands in a kendra (1st, 4th, 7th or 10th) from your Moon. It supports wisdom, a good reputation, the ability to speak well before others and the respect that comes from sound counsel. Its strength rises when Jupiter is exalted or in its own sign and falls when Jupiter is debilitated. It is fairly common, so read it with the rest of the chart, and do not let it breed complacency.

Active in the mahadashas of: Jupiter 2010–2013

Anapha Yoga

Anapha Yoga forms when one or more of Mars, Mercury, Jupiter, Venus or Saturn occupy the 12th sign from your Moon, with the 2nd from the Moon empty of them. It lends poise, a pleasant manner, a taste for comfort and good presentation, and an inner contentment. The planet involved colours it: gentle grahas bring grace, sharper ones bring drive. Guard against spending simply to keep up appearances.

Active in the mahadashas of: Saturn 2013–2032 (now)

Vesi Yoga

Vesi Yoga forms when one or more of Mars, Mercury, Jupiter, Venus or Saturn occupy the 2nd sign from your Sun, with none in the 12th from it. It supports truthfulness, a good memory, balanced views and steady, if gradual, progress. With benefics it adds good fortune and virtue; with malefics it can bring a critical streak worth watching. Pair your even temper with enough initiative to avoid drifting.

Active in the mahadashas of: Jupiter 2010–2013, Venus 2056–2076

Adhi Yoga

Adhi Yoga forms here because at least two benefics among Jupiter, Venus and an unafflicted Mercury sit in the 6th, 7th or 8th sign from your Moon. It supports a steady rise to positions of trust and leadership, courteous dealings and a comfortable life. Its strength follows the benefics involved; with only two the promise is moderate, and it rewards patience and fair conduct more than haste.

Active in the mahadashas of: Jupiter 2010–2013, Mercury 2032–2049, Venus 2056–2076

Budha-Aditya Yoga

Budha-Aditya Yoga forms because the Sun and Mercury share a sign. It favours intelligence, clear expression, sound judgement and a good name for your abilities, with a natural pull toward work that uses the mind. Because Mercury stays close to the Sun, this pairing is common; its strength depends on the sign and house and on Mercury not being deeply combust. Watch for pride in your own opinions.

Active in the mahadashas of: Mercury 2032–2049

Raj Yoga

A Raj Yoga is present: a kendra lord and a trikona lord are linked by exchange, conjunction or mutual aspect. Such links join effort with fortune and support status, authority, recognition and success in your field, most visibly in the periods of the planets involved. Several of these links strengthen the promise. Results still depend on the dignity of the planets and on your own discipline; it supports a rise, it does not ensure one.

Active in the mahadashas of: Jupiter 2010–2013, Saturn 2013–2032 (now), Venus 2056–2076

Yogakaraka

A Yogakaraka is present: one planet rules both a kendra (4th, 7th or 10th) and a trikona (5th or 9th) for your lagna. That planet becomes especially helpful, joining effort with fortune, and its periods often mark progress in status, work and wellbeing. Its results are fullest when it is well placed and strong by sign; a weak placement tends to delay its help rather than remove it.

◆ □ Glossary ◆

Lagna (ascendant) — The sign rising at birth; it sets the twelve houses and describes the self.

Graha — A planet in Vedic astrology: Sun, Moon, Mars, Mercury, Jupiter, Venus, Saturn, Rahu and Ketu.

Nakshatra — One of the 27 lunar mansions; the Moon's nakshatra at birth starts the dasha sequence.

Mahadasha / antardasha — A major chapter of time ruled by one planet, and a shorter chapter within it.

Transit (gochar) — The planets' present movement through the signs, read from your Moon sign.

Sade Sati / Ashtama Shani / Dhaiya — Saturn's demanding transits over and around your Moon sign, and through the 4th and 8th from it.

Yoga — A special combination of planets that promises a particular result, often in its planets' periods.

Divisional charts (D9 and others) — Finer charts drawn from the main one to confirm a reading; D9 (navamsha) is the most used.

Sarvashtakavarga — The points the planets give to each sign; read with transits, a planet passing through a sign with more points tends to give better results.

Manglik — Mars in certain houses, read for marriage; it is often cancelled by other factors.
